

SOCIETY ENJOYING SPORTS AT THE WINTER RESORTS

BASEBALL AT PALM BEACH.

PALM BEACH, Feb. 28.—Society baseball is the season's fad at Palm Beach. Sam Harris, the theatrical manager, introduced it as a pastime for visitors at the hotels to participate in instead of watching professionals play.

Miss Lillian Hyde, the former metropolitan golf champion, organized a couple of tennis and society has gathered to see men and young girls cross bats. In the last game Miss Kathryn Baldwin pitched the Turkey Trot team to a victory over the Lame Duck, of whom Miss Lillian Hyde was the team twirler. While the play did not altogether conform to the rules of the National Association it was replete with errors on the part of the players and spectacular decisions on the part of H. P. Farrington, the umpire.

The lineup was as follows: Turkey Trot—Miss Kathryn Baldwin, pitcher; Aymar Johnson, catcher; Harold Carhart, first base; Ed H. Fisher, second base; Lincoln Waterbury, third base; R. M. Carnegie, shortstop; Mrs. C. Jackson, center field; Mrs. T. M. Carnegie, right field; Miss Emily Jackson, left field. The Lame Duck team was composed of Miss Lillian Hyde, Russell G. Colt, Artemus Holmes, W. R. Simon, C. Jackson, Miss Louise Witherspoon, James Hyde, Miss Constance Roberson and Miss Hilda Holmes.

The men stars suggested that a tennis ball be used and that the young women bat with a racket. In the first play Miss Constance Roberson attempted to steal second. A wild throw by C. Johnson went over Edwin Fisher's head. So great was Miss Roberson's momentum that she ran beyond the base and Miss Jackson touched her with the ball, when Miss Roberson refused to be put out, saying that she couldn't slide in a white dress.

Carmen R. Runyon of New York entertained on an all day cruise to Boynton early this week on board the Oceanic. N. Y. C. L. Runyon was served on the yacht and afterward the boat was anchored while all hands donned bathing suits and dived. Mr. Runyon and one sailor went overboard with a single splash. The trunk floated and after a while the men came up, another sailor and the chauffeur fishing them out. A policeman came running up and threatened to arrest the entire company for violating the Sunday laws.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harris on the motor boat India took a number of friends to luncheon at the houseboat, then going fishing to Munyon's Island. Jules Gienzer and some friends ran in the Eloise up to Boynton. Some others entertaining about town this week were Bradish Johnson, J. S. Rogers, C. H. Brabb, Mr. and Mrs. E. Downing and Robert H. Weld.

Aymar Johnson got a party together and went to the houseboat for a little frolic, his guests occupying three boats. They included Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jackson, Miss Katherine Baldwin, Miss Julia Edger, Miss Constance Roberson, Mrs. Frederick Edger, Miss Lillian Hyde, Russell G. Colt, Miss Louise Witherspoon, Miss Hilda Holmes, and Mrs. Artemus Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Simon.

Former Secretary of State Philander C. Knox, Mrs. Knox and Philander C. Knox, Jr., got in from Nassau, Bahamas, where they have been visiting, and are at the Polynesian for the remainder of the season.

They celebrated their twenty-eighth anniversary last Thursday. After the parade and service conducted at St. John's Church, Hamilton, by the Archbishop of Bermuda, a lodge dinner was given. Among the guests were Sir Thomas J. Wadson, Speaker of Bermuda's Parliament, and the Mayor of Hamilton, A. W. Black.

The slide itself was in capital condition and was F. B. Guild said, "I have never before. It was freshly flooded Monday night and the sleds and toboggans slipped down it like lightning down a copper wire. The slide is a chute built of blocks of ice frozen together. There is little chance for an accident. F. Paul Stevens, who has timed the heavier bobs, says they do better than sixty-seven miles an hour when they strike the ice on Mirror Lake.
